

Unmanifested Council

by

Joseph D. Smith

The Unmanifested Council is a religion and philosophy with the intent of connecting with the Divine, where the idea is that all are Unmanifest, and thus all are Pure, without Sin. Adherents are simply called Unmanifest.

All must come to their own understanding of the Unmanifest, as this religious philosophy is without any creed or dogma. What sets the Unmanifested Council apart is that all ideas are considered valid, as every action has an equal and opposite reaction, cause and effect, karma, fate, and the polarity of every idea, based heavily on the Tao of Taoism.

The Unmanifested Council accepts all theories, and all Unmanifest are encouraged to take pleasure in all pursuits, whether it be materialistic or spiritual, whether it be religious or scientific. We attempt to turn our spirituality into a science in and of itself.

We actively seek knowledge, and we encourage all people to do constant soul searching. We are now the home of those who seek both spiritual and physical knowledge. You can still be an Unmanifest without ever giving up your soul searching.